ADD PRIVACY TO YOUR BACKYARD

INTRODUCE A WATER FEATURE

A secluded backyard doesn't have to mean a privacy fence or tall trees. An outdoor water feature can serve as a perfect solution to enhance your privacy while adding beauty to your space.

CONSIDER THESE POPULAR WATER FEATURES

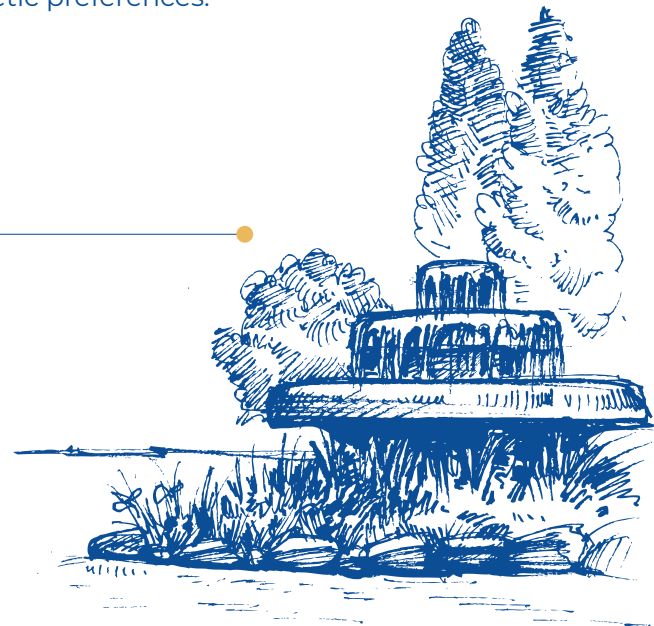

WATERFALL WALL

A waterfall wall is both a striking design element and a privacy barrier. The water not only adds a peaceful ambiance, it also blocks views from outside your yard. You can choose different materials for the wall, such as stone or glass, to suit your aesthetic preferences.

FOUNTAIN WITH SURROUNDING PLANTS

A well-placed fountain combined with surrounding plants creates a private atmosphere. The sound of flowing water helps to mask unwanted noises, and the plants provide an additional visual barrier. Consider placing the fountain near a seating area for maximum enjoyment.

NATURAL STREAM

If you have the space, a natural-looking stream will create a sense of separation between your space and its surroundings. Similar to a fountain, the sound of water in the stream will help mask excess noise.
